more than a test...
...we give you confidence

Small but perfectly formed, our team of experienced and qualified security consultants can help you with the advice you need to fix vulnerabilities rather that just identify them.

application testing

web apps

Your website is key to your business, and could be your biggest asset.

You want to keep that asset secure and we can help you.

Using the same tools as hackers we can infiltrate your website, exposing vulnerabilities safely so you can fix them before they become an issue.

mobile apps

Mobile is big business, you want to keep the business safe.

You want to know the consultant testing your mobile app knows what they're doing.

As specialists in mobile we've won bug bounties specific to mobile, and train on secure mobile development.
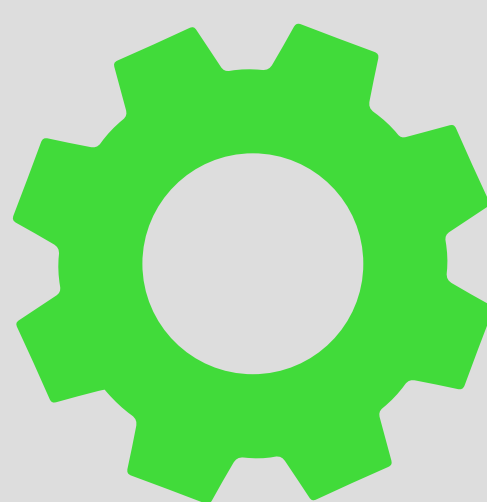

network security

network tests

With the GDPR now in force, network security has never been more scrutinised. A breach could cause you major issues.

Our infrastructure certified testers can help you protect your network, identifying vulnerabilities that may put your business at risk.

network scans

With the right tools anyone can scan a network, so our experienced consultants will help you understand the output.

In-line with high industry standards we will perform the scans for you, reporting back with recommendations on the outcomes.

secure coding

code review

What the best way to secure your apps? From the ground up. Our testers can perform reviews to identify vulnerable code, helping you protect against weaknesses before your application is even fully developed.

By investing in a secure foundation we can help you feel confidence in the quality of your code and the security of your applications.